

120

A heatmap visualization of a 2D distribution. The plot is square with a gray border. The background is dark purple. A bright yellow-green elliptical region is centered on the right side of the plot, indicating a high-density area. The color gradient transitions from yellow at the center to green, then blue, and finally back to purple at the edges.